

Organic Farm

206 E Denton St.
Hancock, IA 51536

Botna Burrow is a diverse, small-scale farm nestled on the edge of Hancock, Iowa. We use natural growing practices and produce high-quality vegetables and herbs. We care about our soil, land, and all the living things that inhabit it. We have a special interest in native plants and edible perennials and we nurture both on our land.

Farm OPEN!
Sat. Oct 8th
10AM - 2PM

Kids Gardening Activity

The kids gardening activity will be led by Cait, a garden educator for Omaha's Big Garden and Botna Burrow. Children and parents will have a great time learning about gardening using hands on gardening tools.

Farm Tour

Come see the farm! Learn about Botna Burrow's organic gardening practices. From cover crops to rotations and how they keep their soil happy and healthy.

Contact

Cait & Tyler - 402-706-7496
botnaburrow@gmail.com

Come visit our website
botnaburrow.com

Fresh Produce
available for purchase!

Apple Cider Pressing

Live in action! See how apple cider is made. You can bring your own apples to press with a container to take home. Yummy Yummy!